

RISK DISCLOSURE

1. Introduction

1.1. This document provides information about the risks of using or accessing our investment and financial products. We aim to inform you about the risks involved with these products and the risks associated with your trading in the market. However, you acknowledge that our Risk Disclosure cannot and does not cover all possible circumstances in Forex trading.

2. General Risk Warning

2.1. Trading on Margin entails high risk and may not be suitable for all investors. Before you decide to trade, you should carefully assess your investment objectives, experiences, financial capabilities, and tolerance to accept the risks. There is a possibility of losing your initial investment partially or entirely. Therefore, you should not invest any funds you cannot afford to lose. You should also be aware of all the risks associated with currency exchange trading and contact an independent financial advisor in case of doubt.

2.2. By continuing to use our Services, you acknowledge and accept all risks involved in trading, including the possible losses or damages.

3. Trading CFDs

3.1. Our products include Contracts for Differences (“CFDs”) with underlying assets of currencies, commodities, indices, stocks, and cryptocurrencies.

3.2. CFDs and other trading instruments, including futures, are complex derivative products that involve a high level of risk, which may not be suitable for all types of investors. Do not invest with money you cannot afford to lose. However, you cannot lose more than the Equity in your Account. You are responsible for assessing your extensive trading experience in volatile markets, understanding how CFDs work, including all associated risks and costs, and ensuring you accept the risks. The use of Margin or leverage can come with more significant risks, wherein you accept that there may be cases in which we will be able to close your transactions without prior notice.

3.3. You can trade the available financial assets or instruments on the trading platform, provided that the execution of such assets does not violate any of our terms and conditions.

3.4. Trading with CFDs does not mean buying the underlying asset but instead purchasing a contract to settle the difference in the asset price range using leverage. When trading CFDs, you generally trade on Margin, which means you only use a percentage of the asset's overall value.

4. Market Volatility

4.1. Market prices often fluctuate, which we cannot control, as all price movements depend on the asset or instrument itself. You acknowledge and accept that if the market moves against the order of your position, you may sustain a total loss greater than the funds invested in that trade. You are solely responsible for any damage or loss you may incur in your Trading Account. You further acknowledge and accept the possibility of price slippage or market gapping in the financial instruments that may lead to market price fluctuation, which we cannot and do not guarantee whether or not such fluctuation will be to your advantage.

4.2. We have set specific prices and conditions according to our obligation to provide the best execution in our Order Execution and act reasonably in line with the applicable Terms of Service Agreement.

4.3. We, and any of our entities, are not responsible for monitoring the trades in your Trading Account. You are responsible for ensuring that the ongoing trades in your Trading Account meet the appropriate Margin requirements at all times, which may change from time to time. You agree that if the market price moves against your position or our Margin requirements are changed, you may need to provide additional funds to meet such Margin requirements to maintain your ongoing trades. If you do not meet the appropriate Margin requirements, it may lead to closing any or all of your ongoing trades, and you will be liable for any loss or damage you may incur consequently.

4.4. You understand that not all market orders are fully adequate for your trades, which may result from volatile price movements or market closures.

4.5. You accept that if you fail to close the trade of any asset or instrument before it expires, such trade may be automatically closed despite the floating profit or loss. A trading position may be excluded from automatic closure provided your Trading Account is in stable condition, and its statistics meet our Margin requirement. In case of automatic trade closure, you may transfer to a different liquidity provider, subject to our terms and conditions.

5. Market Information & Resources

5.1. We can provide you with trading materials as a guide and reference during your trading course, but we cannot and do not guarantee that such materials are error-free, accurate, consistent, or reliable. Information on the previous performance of a particular asset or financial instrument does not guarantee its current or future performance. Historical data does not construe a safe forecast or a consistent performance. You agree that all materials, including market recommendations, historical

5.2. There are also risks in trading instruments or assets that may be or become subject to tax or other charges. You are solely responsible for any taxes and any other duty which may accrue regarding your trades.

5.3. If you perform any financial transaction on the electronic system available on our Site, you may be exposed to risks associated with the system, including, but not limited to, technical failure (hardware and software or internet and servers). Such technical failures may cause your trade not to be executed according to your instructions or may not be executed at all. We are not responsible for loss or damage in such technical failure.

5.4. Furthermore, you acknowledge that trading online, no matter how convenient or efficient, does not necessarily reduce the risks associated with financial trading or investing.
